THE VOICE OF TRUTH FOR EXTREME MUSIC

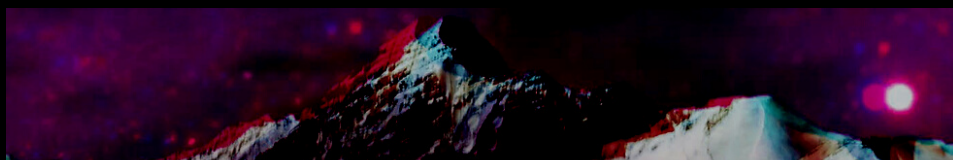

WHAT IS DISSECTING THE EUPHONY ABOUT?

We are a collective of music fans who came together in 2010 with the intention of sharing all things extreme music with the general public. Whether it is a subtle piece in the local scene or a show-stopper in the global arena, we're there to discuss it all.

Having started our journey with small-scale music reviews on Blogspot, Dissecting the Euphony (DtE) has now widened its network to its very own website, Facebook, Instagram, podcast and Clubhouse.

With that said, our belief remains the same — if it sounds good, looks and feels great, it must be an epic release. That's why we can't wait to share our experiences with the world!

We welcome any collaborations with brands, bands or labels to promote launches, artists, merchandise and tours through our platforms.

The DtE website is a platform for you to discover the latest releases, news and premieres for local and international bands.

Distortion is our Spotify podcast that discusses the scene, music and ideas in the local context and globally. We also feature the editor's choice of musical tracks.

Dissecting the Euphony on Facebook serves as a gathering point for our fans to exchange views on the latest happenings in the extreme music scene. We also share materials from our website every so often.

Dissecting the Euphony on Instagram acts as a support to our Facebook in sharing the latest releases and news about local and international bands.

Radio Khaos is our bi-weekly Clubhouse radio series that broadcasts the latest tracks from all around the world.
